Comments: s a really bright student, he just gets bogged down with reading. He is good at understanding plot, but he gets confused by names and places. He does well on the computer, so we started a word document that he can put the different names on a use as a reference, and he highlights the different categories in different colors. Also, Will becomes daunted by the reading so he just doesn't do it, so hopefully he's actually going to read it by taking the reading line by line and not becoming overwhelmed.

Comments: We covered the main ideas of the endocrine system. The client had not yet read over the chapters so I tried to give the big ideas first before going into specifics. The client also seemed distracted and feeling down. She mentioned that she was tired and that she had been thinking a lot about her major and if this is what she wanted to do. She just seemed overwhelmed.

Comments: We went over homework covering distance formula and volume formulas. I worked the problems with her to make sure that she setup the problems accurately and solved the problem using the correct formula.
